Checklist before Submission

☐ No Formatting Required for Initial Submission: For initial submission, manuscripts do not need to follow CEEM formatting. Peer review will proceed using the authors' prepared format. Upon revision, authors must reformat the manuscript according to CEEM style.

☐ The manuscript has been submitted as a single Microsoft Word file, including the full title page, abstract, main text, references, tables, and figure legends.

☐ Title page: Include this in the main manuscript file, providing the full manuscript title, a running title (≤ 50 characters), the full names and affiliations of all authors, and the corresponding author's contact information. Details required under "Article Information" are listed below.

o Ethical statements
o Conflict of Interest statement
o Funding
o ORCID (Open Researcher and Contributor ID (recommended)
o Author contributions using CRediT (Contributor Roles Taxonomy) roles
o Acknowledgments

☐ The abstract should be divided into Objective, Methods, Results, and Conclusion, and should not exceed 250 words for original research and systematic reviews. For other article categories, please refer to the Instructions for Authors.

☐ Keywords should appear after the abstract.

☐ Main manuscript: The main text should be organized according to the manuscript type (e.g., Introduction, Methods, Results, and Discussion for original research). Tables may be included within the main manuscript.

☐ Information regarding approval of an Institutional Review Board and obtaining informed consent should be mentioned in the Methods section.

☐ Define all abbreviations and symbols at their first appearance in the text, tables, and figures.

☐ Each figure should be uploaded as a separate file and should not be included in the main text.

☐ Ensure that all tables and figures are cited in the text in numerical order.

☐ Capsule Summary: If required for your article type, include the Capsule Summary in the main manuscript. It must be written in a narrative form as two short, abbreviation-free statements: (1) What is already known and (2) What is new in the current study.

☐ Ensure that all references are numbered consecutively and cited appropriately in the text.

☐ The use of any AI-assisted tools in manuscript preparation must be clearly disclosed.
